

ACL scene report: We Go To Eleven; the long road to Austin

John T. Davis, September 27, 2008

We Go To Eleven got a solid-gold introduction before their set at the BMI Stage at 12:40 today. The band was brought onstage by C3 partner and ACL producer Charles Attal.

Probably it had something to do with the fact that WGTE's drummer, 13-year old Sled Allen is Attal's nephew; his sister, Jennifer, is married to visual artist Bale Allen.

Backstage, Attal mingled with his parents, Charles "Lucky" and Katherine Attal, as well as Sled's grandparents—musician and artist Terry Allen and playwright/actress Jo Harvey Allen. The Allen's spent part of their ACL sojourn catching up with another family friend, David Byrne, who performed at the Paramount Theatre on Thursday and at ACL on Friday.
